Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

The greeting from St. Paul's letter to the Christians in Colossae is my thoughts to you as I close out nearly 44 years of ministry in Christ's church:

Grace to you and peace from God our Father. In our prayers for you we always thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, for we have heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of the love that you have for all the saints, because of the hope laid up for you in heaven. You have heard of this hope before in the word of the truth, the gospel that has come to you. Just as it is bearing fruit and growing in the whole world, so it has been bearing fruit among yourselves from the day you heard it and truly comprehended the grace of God. (Colossians 1:2a-6, NRSV)

You have heard the Gospel and you are bearing fruit within this community of faith and the community that surrounds it. Thanks be to God!

In eight months, I will turn 70. Reading that number in print stuns me. The question that pops into my mind, as it does so many others, "Where has the time gone?" As I wrote previously, 2016 and 2017 were two years of transition in the Nickols' household: Joel relocating to Orlando with his now fiancée Bridget Halloran, Jennifer marrying Chris Wilkins, and shortly after the wedding my mother's death, and Janell's retirement from teaching. And, those transitions ushered in another transition for Our Saviour's – my retirement.

I have been in a pastoral role at Our Saviour's for nearly nine years. While there were some challenging moments, especially in the interpersonal domain, we have, by the grace of God, weathered them and emerged more vibrant and energized to fulfill our mission to make "Christ known through worship, education and witness, we invite and serve the community and beyond."

While Our Saviour's may be small in numbers, the people who worship and serve our Savior have a warm heart for serving the community and beyond. It is faith active in love for others: participating in the soup kitchen at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newport News; preparing meals for the families in a nearby local motel (coordinated by Janette Kline); making prayer shawls (coordinated by Karen Dutton) for Virginia Commonwealth University Medical Center and now, more recently, for cancer patients; baby blankets for FISH (local food pantry); hygiene kits and shoes for children in Africa (coordinated by Diane Priestley); choir singing for the homebound on Valentine's Day and Christmas, organizing fundraisers for the Mattaponi, Honor Flight, Erase the Need, the teaming of three Lutheran churches to Rise Against Hunger, and much more; the Oktoberfest to install the commercial kitchen and then to help fund the Senior Champion Program (adult day program); the youth groups of Stone House and Our Saviour's joining together for faithful development, fun, and mission trips (coordinated by Joanne Weber); and more could be added to the list.

Evie Braukhoff, at her own expense, a number of years ago, travelled to Pittsburg, Pa., to attend Stephen Leadership Training (a week long training program). Evie is active not only as a Stephen Minister, along with Pam Wildenberger, but also a Stephen Leader who helps train other Stephen Ministers in the Greater Williamsburg area. Also, Evie initiated and coordinates Prayer on Wednesday (POW).

From my perspective, the physical plant of Our Saviour's is in great shape. Rudy Sheets along with Roger Picard, Scott Braukhoff, and Clark Kimmel are to be commended. Rudy spearheaded the renovation work supported by the people of Our Saviour's who made the bold decision to fund the needed (and long overdue) repairs. The challenge is to avoid deferring maintenance.

Worship at Our Saviour's is at the center of all that is done here. I thank Al Glindemann, Brandon Tate, Barbara Shaal, Gigi Paddock, and Dick Hartman for their service on the Worship and Music Committee. Worship is what gives purpose and sustains the outreaching ministries and the "in reach ministries" of this community of faith. It makes what is done here different from a social service organization. We take what we do and experience in worship and, guided by the Holy Spirit, depart to do "God's work with our hands." I thank Gigi for her dedication to providing exceptional music and leading a committed group of choir members. Again, although small in number, they give their heartfelt best. They do an outstanding job. They sound like many!

Barbara Shaal, aided by her husband Bill, serves in a number of capacities: Adopt-a-Spot program to maintain the gardens around the church campus and doing the decorations in the hall and church for the holidays and special occasions.

Christ is the hub of the life of this community. The administrative hub is the church office. Shirley Harrison is dedicated to Christ in her service to him as the parish administrator. She goes well above and beyond her "position description." Shirley enters in the financial data into Shepherd's Staff (church management software), prepares the weekly worship folder (a bit more complicated during Christmas, Lent, Easter), marriage bulletins, funeral worship folders; maintains the parish records (births, deaths, burials, marriages, first communion, confirmations, transfers, new members, etc.), prepares correspondence, responds to spontaneous requests, supplies information, answers the phone, orders supplies, and serves as the resident corporate memory. Shirley cares deeply about the work of this church and the members who sustain that work. My pastoral ministry was made lighter because of her consummate skill and warm personality. She is a partner in ministry. I will miss our interactions and conversations.

Almost everyone who worships at Our Saviour's is involved in varying degrees to make ministry in Jesus' name happen: those who usher; those who help with Children's Church; those who serve as readers; those who acolyte (Rose, Nya, and Ashley); those who serve as assistant ministers (and bake the bread for communion); those who count the offering; those who deposit it; those who serve on the committees; and those who pitch in and help or do something when asked or see a need. I commend the new members of the OSLC family who have stepped up to the plate to serve on the council, on committees, in Women of the ELCA (WELCA), altar care, and so on. Thank you!

If Janell and I could stay at Our Saviour's, we would because it is not only a place where Janell and I do ministry, but also it is our Christian family. Janell and I will miss our shared ministry at Our Saviour's.

In Christ's love,
Pastor J.

OPERATION PAPERBACK

From VA Hospital in El Paso, TX:

The veterans I see daily have so many similar issues. Lots of depression, feeling of guilt (war horrors), anxiety, PTSD .... My patients are paired with therapeutic books sent by your fine people. Many have been moved by this intervention and want to talk about what they found important in the readings. Your volunteers continue to answer the call of providing therapeutic literature for our veterans suffering from mental health problems. The veterans who have received a book return with grand reviews and many have asked that I send their regards and appreciation! So you see, fellow Americans, you are assisting veterans in El Paso to move forward in their struggles with mental health issues. I am so very thankful, and wish you could see their faces and hear their words. I am so proud to be your 'middleman' and their nurse.

The following books are especially beloved:

*Chicken Soup for The Veteran's Soul

*Overcoming Worry and Fear

*You Can Beat Depression: A Guide To Prevention and Recovery

*Anger Kills

*The Little Book of Mindfulness

*Self-Esteem

The social workers at our clinic are asking for support also and would like to have books like the ones I already gave out. Please let your volunteers know all is extremely appreciated and I do my very best to unite book with veteran for a good match. There is always a constant need for certain books so let me know if I may again call upon you and your kind folks to help out. You inspire me and help to heal our warriors of yesteryear.

With Utmost Love and Appreciation, Rosa

From Air Station Borinquen, Puerto Rico:

I am writing to let you know that the Air Station Borinquen library officially reopened today with a ribbon cutting ceremony attended by our base commander, executive officer, command master chief, and assistant MWR officer, along with about 75 members of our community and our Child Development Center, who came to enjoy crafts, music, trivia, tours of our new library, painting, a raffle, chalk drawings, and ice cream. It was a tremendous success, and one that would not have been possible without the wonderful support of the many volunteers of Operation Paperback.

Six and a half months ago, when Hurricane Maria decimated our library (both our books and the building that housed them) we really did not know how we would ever recover. Nearly 80% of our collection was lost to water damage and mold, and the items that could be salvaged had to be moved to a vacant house on base that would serve as our interim library. As donations poured in from Operation Paperback as well as independent donors, our new books had to be sorted and shelved in the new library, all work that was done by volunteers who donated hundreds of hours to the effort.

Though we are still working on a few things that will bring us back to full operation (internet, for example, and replacing some parts of our collection) our official opening today and the warm reception by our community remind us of just how far we have come. We are grateful to you for your role in making that happen.

Thank you!

Chapter 35 "Becoming a Person" Bill writes in this chapter of a conference of European doctors he attended who were concerned with medicine for the whole person. They believed to properly take care of their patients they needed to meet not only the patient's physical needs but their emotional and spiritual needs as well. While at this same conference he was reading a book entitled "The Age of Sensation" by Herbert Hendin, an American psychiatrist and psychoanalyst. His book concentrated on the study of college students in the mid-1970's and he said the attitudes and symptoms he recognized in the study were creeping into the mainstream of American life. He found a general disillusionment and lack of purpose of which and I quote. "The culture is marked by a self-interest and ego-centrism that increasingly reduces all relations to the question: What am I getting out of it? Nothing blocks involvement more effectively than a sense that anything felt or done for another person is a wearisome burden or that nothing is worthwhile that does not immediately result in some gain." I fast forward to John Rosemond who writes for the Richmond Times Dispatch and a well-known child psychiatrist. I will also quote him. "Postmodern psychological parenting-Research has established that children reared prior to the 1960s were much happier, were far more emotionally resilient, and possessed much better mental health in general than children raised since. It is psychological because its contentions rest on discredited psychological (more specifically, humanistic) theory. According to its proponents and practitioners, "gentle parenting" involves treating children as equals, having them participate in family decision-making, giving them a plethora of choices (as opposed to commands) and explanations. To be clear, these gentle parents are not authority figures; they are partners. Punishment is not an option because punishment identifies the behavior as precisely what the behavior is apparently not in their mind, bad. Gentle parenting websites clarify when people as adults actually do wrong things, it is because they were not parented gently enough." Now full disclosure, he was raised in the 1950s, he was not "parented." From a very early life he was raised by people who treated him as if he was intelligent and resilient enough to accept full responsibility for his behavior and actions. He was not given choices, he was told what to do and there were no discussions, no explanations, no requests to help make a family decision. He lived in the family home, was loved, and had no rights, the home belonged to his parents, adults made the decisions economically and what was best in their minds with no regard for his wishes. He contends, as did Dr. Herbert Hendin, that child-young adult mental health has plummeted (and continues to do so), child and teen suicide has soared, and college campuses now have "safe spaces". In contract, Bill's European conference of doctors and counselors, most of whom were Christians proposed: "Becoming a person is loving and being loved by somebody" I contend it is also being given rules and commandments to live by. I know of only one way that suffering from "meaninglessness" can be relieved successfully. It is by people turning from narcissism, and self-centeredness and aught about Jesus Christ. It is about parenting and teaching responsibility for one's actions, like Christ taught us. You will not succeed spiritually if you do not become a disciplined person. That's the message in 1 Timothy 4:6-10 6 If you point these things out to the brothers and sisters,<sup>[a]</sup> you will be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished on the truths of the faith and of the good teaching that you have followed. 7 Have nothing to do with godless myths and old wives' tales; rather, train yourself to be godly. 8 For physical training is of some value, but godliness has value for all things, holding promise for both the present life and the life to come.<sup>9</sup> This is a trustworthy saying that deserves full acceptance.<sup>10</sup> That is why we labor and strive, because we have put our hope in the living God, who is the Savior of all people, and especially of those who believe. Bill finishes his chapter by stating “That, in turn, will enable them to not only love themselves, but others as well. Then they can be whole persons-who love and are loved by others. My affirmation comes from Jesus’ bodily resurrection, for resurrections of hopes and dreams, new life where hope was dead and buried. My faith comes in knowing Christ and accepting him as my Savior. This charges my life with meaning and mission of sharing the good news of Christ. This awakening in my journey, folks, is reaching out to those who are in the dark, those who need faith, grace and mercy. I hope you are finding Bill Kinards the Promise of Hope, challenging (I am!) and thought provoking. I am sharing this to help cope when life caves in. We join in prayer for the Ministers in our Church, and all of those who are in need. We Stephen Ministers will walk with you and let the Holy Spirit be our guide. May YOU through our Lord Jesus Christ receive what God has promised all of us grace, mercy, and peace. We pray in your holy name. Amen.

Evie Braukhoff Stephen Minster Leader, Your sister in Christ.

Prayer on Wednesday will be with you in prayer as we take a break during the Summer. We will have POW on May 2nd and 9th. We will then break until the fall season, approximately after Labor Day, watch for the September Newsletter. We are happy to welcome all to POW. There are no books to read or work to be done except with you and the Lord. Come when you need Christ, come when the Spirit calls, come when you are in need of shared prayer. After our Prayer of the Day we will have 15 to 20 minutes of silent meditative prayer, a reading of the Gospel, Prayers of Intercession, and requests for prayers of healing, and a closing prayer. You are welcome to come to the Baptismal Font for your specific prayer request or let the leader know. Those who have gathered will pray with you or another healing prayer will be offered. We leave in silence for spiritual reflection.

Prayer. What a privilege. What an opportunity. What a duty and responsibility. Jesus is our example. The Spirit is our guide. The Father is eagerly waiting. It could change you, your family, your friends, and the world.

WHEN MOTHERS BECOME GRANDMAS

IN THE AFTERGLOW OF EASTER,
HOPE PERMEATES THE AIR
AS THE BEAUTY OF THE SEASON
WARMS US LIKE A PRAYER.
IT'S THE TIME WE HONOR MOTHERS -
SECOND SUNDAY IN MAY,
AND WE'RE TIED TO THEIR APRON STRINGS
EVEN WHEN WE MOVE AWAY.

MOTHERS LAY A STRONG FOUNDATION
FOR US TO BUILD UPON.
THEY NURSE US THROUGH OUR TENDER YEARS
UNTIL WE'RE ON OUR OWN.
THEY WORK HARD AND SACRIFICE,
THEY DRY THE BITTER TEARS,
EVERY MEMORY GROWS SWEETER
THROUGHOUT THE PASSING YEARS.

WHEN MOTHERS BECOME GRANDMAS,
THEIR HEARTS ARE FULLER GROWN.
THEY LOVE AND SPOIL EACH GRANDCHILD
AS IF THEY WERE THEIR OWN.
WE LOVE THEM ALL FOR ALL THEY DO -
THEIR HUGS ARE OH, SO SWEET.
MOTHER, DAUGHTER, GRANDDAUGHTER -
THE CYCLE IS COMPLETE!
